Width : cadre 79cm/ toile 65cm

Height : cadre 94cm/ toile 80cm

Description

This studio version of the canvas presented by François Boucher at the 1742 salon is slightly less erotic! In fact, the veil worn by Leda hides her chest here, but her companion is always presented in the same lying position. 18th century oil painting presented in its original frame carved in gilded wood. Not re-lined, customary restorations.
