Description

Beautiful restored and reupholstered Art Deco living room set, consisting of a two-seater bench, two armchairs and a chair. All in solid beech. The bench seat and the armchairs have moving backrests that follow the shape of the back. The armrests, also hectic, are openwork and have three bars, giving the whole lightness and finesse. The backrests, by their shape, as well as the seats, are comfortable. Each of the five seats in this set has benefited from a complete restoration. The redone upholstery, with straps and horsehair, is provided with a fabric with white and burgundy geometric patterns, and a flat braid. The front legs of these seats are turned. Harmonious and refined, this set will delight lovers of airy furniture with delicate curves. * Period: 1940 Excellent condition after restoration in our
