Description

Symmetrical meridian sofa, also called "loveseat", with equal gondola-shaped bedside tables, in speckled maple inlaid with amaranth fillets. It rests on four console legs ending in casters. Charles X period. This very rare small two-seater sofa is very comfortable and easily finds its place due to its modest dimensions. It will harmonize perfectly with a set of gondola chairs or armchairs. It is usable as is although its fabric (silk a priori period) is worn.
