Description

Beautiful Louis XV style solid mahogany coffee table remarkable for the quality of its essence and its refined carvings. Its slightly hectic top is surrounded by a thin throat and a corbin's beak. We will notice its splendid veining and its deep color. The belt of this center table is sculpted with refinement and embellished with flowers, acanthus leaves, rosettes and a delicately engraved grid. It is completed with graceful moldings that join the 4 curved Louis XV crowbars. Each is underlined with a groove and decorated with a shell and acanthus leaves. This hectic center table will delight you with its shimmering color and ornamentation.  Period: 2nd part of the 19th century Excellent condition after restoration in our workshop. Varnished finish. Delivery possible, in France
