Description

We present this rare rosewood showcase from the restoration period around 1820/1830 in an exceptional state of preservation. It was hung in the entrance of a superb house and was used to hang the various keys of the owner. The oak background is dressed in brown velvet and on the glass is placed a green pleated curtain. I will see this showcase by removing the curtain used to put collector's watches. (E) Ref. Ya 506
