(including the front line), officers: General Joffre, General Rouquerol, Colonel Dechiezelle, Commander Pruneau, Lieutenant Fournier, Lieutenant Walckemar, Raymond Poincaré (then President of the Republic), Villeneuve Bargemont, military vehicles (including armored vehicles), an aid station, a cart pulled by a dog, planes, a presentation of the Croix de guerre, scenes depicting the 1st Company of the 1st Marine Rifle Regiment, views of ports and coasts, aerial views, a crashed plane, artillery pieces and ammunition, a locomotive in a devastated station, an aerial view of a bombardment, soldiers' graves, battle scenes naval wing, a soldier placing the skull of a German in his hands, the delivery of mail to the front, the construction of shelters, sailors, an airfield, a "boche" [sic] corpse , etc. In short, this exhaustive meeting offers insight - unique! - and very comprehensive on the daily lives of soldiers and the ravages caused by war. In addition: a handwritten note written by a Lieutenant-Colonel laminated with stamp of the "2ème Régiment de zouaves de marches" and two train tickets. Many of these photos - according to the captions - were taken in Nieuwpoort (mainly) and Ypres. Foxing affecting the dishes. Prints on the whole well preserved (although a few of them show an altered luster). Two separate sheets (one of which has an angular lack; no damage to the photo). Sheetlets detached from their respective binding. Notwithstanding, together in good condition.
