Imposing console table in solid mahogany, Louis XVI style, with Breche marble top in multiple shades but predominantly yellow. It is cut with a central projection, just like the belt on which it rests. The latter is, on the front as well as on the sides, carved with two friezes: one in waves and the other more vegetal. The assembly is supported by four Legs at the front and two at the back. All are composed in the upper parts of generous foliated volutes, and in the lower parts of sheathed and striated feet. Nothing less was needed to support this Marble, Impressive in its dimensions, Bright in its colors. It harmonizes with the spirit of this Great Console, Majestic and rich in Character.  Period: Late 19th century Perfect condition after restoration in our workshop. Wax finish only. Polished and lustrous
