

Two tall, slender, woven baskets are displayed side-by-side on black rectangular stands. The basket on the left has a white, fringed top, while the one on the right has a red, fringed top. Both baskets are made of a light brown, textured material, possibly woven reeds or grass, and have small, light-colored tassels hanging from the sides. The background is a plain, light-colored wall.

Height : 17 et 17,5

Couple of ham pilu Kirdi Cameroon fibers beads

the small arms ,legs and the head are made of wire covered with thread ending with a glass bead it is a very elaborated work

The are very few exemples in Africabn heritage research center ;

one exemple in 2009 with Alyas naegele a couple with robert Dowling San Francisco

19 rue des minimas Bruxelles 1000

couple of" ham pilu", dolls Kirdi, Cameroon made of braided fiber

.the hair and small arms and legs are made of fiber wrapped iron wire and end with a glass bead

there are very few known examples In african heritage: there is one exemple in 2009 with Amias naegele, a couple with robert Dowling San Francisco in 2011 and a piece sold at Zemanek in 2016 from Helga Redlich the male figure has a fiber penis that ends with a red bead

