Description

Oval planter, in silvered bronze, Louis XV style. The body, decorated on the potbellied parts with central shells, is entirely chiselled with rockwork, foliage and flowering branches. At each end, a very airy handle in the shape of scrolls and acanthus leaves allows this item to be carried. The set rests on four small rock feet. We will remember from this decorative planter the multitude of motifs chiseled with the greatest care.

Period: 2nd half of the 19th century.

Excellent condition.
