"Lallemand.F" Jean Baptiste Lallemand, born in Dijon in 1716 and died in Paris in 1803 is a painter of genre, landscapes, history and marine, and engraver. In 1739, he decided to go to Paris to learn the art of painting while practicing his trade as a tailor. In 1774, he obtained his letters of mastery, he was received "in the number of masters, gilders, sculptors" of Dijon, and subsequently, in 1745 among the "masters, painters, sculptors" of the Academy of Saint-Luc from Paris. He then travels to Italy where he draws inspiration from ancient sites and ruins to paint his paintings. He then makes paintings, drawings, engravings but also gouaches. Among his favorite themes, there are essentially seascapes, village scenes, rural subjects and
