Description

Opaline "soap bubble" box and its hinged lid cut with checkerboards comprising four small gadrooned bottles with their glass stopper and their gilded metal lid. In the center, a finely chiseled funnel is used to fill the perfume bottles. The gilt bronze frame chiseled with stars and flower buds rests on four feet in the shape of a winged lion's paw. It is embellished on the sides with handles in the shape of a scallop shell as well as a lock decorated with foliage. Good condition. Some chips on the neck of the bottles and their glass stoppers. Lid attached to the four containers.
