Large bowl in the shape of a shuttle in openwork porcelain from the first half of the 19th century. a very beautiful empire style cup in gilded porcelain and decorated with an empire green band.

the gold decoration is perfect and is remarkable, it is not easy to reproduce it with photos but it has a superb decoration of palmettes and scrolls on the perimeter in superimposition, below the green ribbon. on the base appears a biscuit-style decoration with lions' muzzles.

the shuttle shape gives it a lot of elegance.

the openwork decoration is also in perfect condition and this beautiful shaped piece is designed in two parts.

it kept its original nut.

It is rare to see such well-preserved gold
