Description

Created in 1951 by Marc Lalique, the Cactus table fits into the most creative spaces of today's decoration. The scrolls of crystal and light are a vertigo of a thousand lights, effortlessly absorbing the eye.

This sumptuous table is a brilliant demonstration of the creative genius and mastery of the best glassmakers.

Only artisans who have been awarded the title of Meilleur Ouvrier de France can contribute to the creation of this exceptional piece.

The production of each of the eight legs takes 8 to 10 weeks and requires, in the hot glass workshops, the assistance of 6 master glassmakers who shape each element by hand from a mass of 18 kg of crystal.
