Description

The king of color and material with this large oil on canvas by the leader of the Ecole Provençale of the mid-20th century, Pierre Ambrogiani.

The work in excellent condition is presented in a beautiful Roger Gault (RG) frame in the Louis XIV style with a degilded patina which measures 106 cm by 77 cm and 81 cm by 54.5 cm for the canvas alone.

It represents a multicolored bouquet in a blue vase.

The work is signed lower left and countersigned and titled "flowers in a blue vase" on the back.

Self-taught artist, influenced by Seyssaud and Chabaud, he was encouraged in his beginnings by Antoine Serra who lent him his studio.

In 1936, during the inauguration of the Maison de la Culture in Marseille, he met Picasso who became one of his friends (the homage to Picasso 1962);

Caricaturist for the "Radical", he had his first success in 1938 when the Museum of Fine Arts in Marseille bought him a work.

A very popular and particularly colorful character from Marseille, Pierre Ambrogiani is a friend of Marcel Pagnol and Jean Giono. His workshop is located in Cours d'Estienne d'Orves, near the Old Port. He travels the countryside with his car which serves as his studio, painting on the ground. He moved into a studio on the Quai Rive Neuve in Marseille in 1943.

Renowned for his palette of bright colors, he painted landscapes of the South, still lifes of fish. He also engraves many plates to illustrate works.

In 1962, he decorated the Immaculate Conception Church in Marseille with frescoes and stained glass.

We owe him a postage stamp, Saint-Paul-de-Vence, in 1961.

Forced by illness and infirmity to stop painting in 1973, Pierre Ambrogiani died in 1985 and was buried in the Saint-Pierre cemetery in Marseille. His body was transferred to the cemetery of Sault, in the Vaucluse.
