Description

Based on a painting by Paul Klee - Brink and Campman - Rug - Musiker.

Contemporary rug, artist's rug with a depiction after the artwork "Musiker" by Paul Klee from 1937.

The use of lines, both in the black lines and in the color distribution, creates a wonderful feeling of movement.

These lines also give the impression that the artist's carpet is divided into separate chambers or compartments within the design. In this way, Paul Klee defines individual spaces within the work and connects them with line and direction.

This Scandinavian rug is made in 2005 by Brink & Campman, the Netherlands.
