Description

Property furniture in solid acacia, resulting from quality regional work. This property consists of a sloping office topped by a window. The flap features a miter-cut frame, darkened with a seamless single-plank panel. Its perimeter consists of a quarter-round molding and it closes with an original lock in working order accompanied by its key and a bronze diamond entrance. This flap opens on brass hinges and is held in place by original iron compasses. Inside we discover a new wine-colored leather with vignette and a four-pattern composition. The interior part has a door with two identical drawers on each side, a large niche, a tabernacle with original lock in working order and a sliding mitred shelf revealing a secret storage space. Below, we find two drawers of the same
