

Large Liberty Style Decorative Mask From A Cinema In Rimini - Italy -

500 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Etat d'usage

Material : Plaster

Description

This large painted imitation bronze mask has a singular history. It comes from the city of Rimini in Italy. the cinema has been demolished for many years now .

As you know, Rimini is the birthplace of the film director Fellini, where he set his youthful memories with the film AMARCORD.

We like to imagine the director as a child in the cinema decorated with these masks (I have 4) while he watches the first films of that era in ecstasy, almost all silent films ..
