Description

Rare writing desk with Asian decoration, in Chinese lacquer, from the Napoleon III period. This travel box, or at least portable, thanks to its two small side handles, has a drawer on one side and opens to give access to the inclined plane covered with a felt (recently replaced). Inside, two lockers allow documents to be stored under the shelves. Other small spaces were reserved for inkwells (absent) and penholders. Other photos on request. We note a certain wear of the decoration on the top and some small accidents. The locks which are original have a key but do not work Shipping quote by colissimo on request, specifying the place or the country.
