Timpani In Silver France XVIII Century Around 1763

990 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Sterling silver

Diameter : 9,2 cm

Height : 11,5 cm

Description

Silver beaker in the shape of a tulip, the edge is molded with fillets. Timbale rests on a circular foot embellished with a frieze of ovals and interlacing. The cut is shared at mid-height by two double nets separating two ornamental registers. In the lower part are chiselled three baskets of rose flowers surrounded by cut-out leather which alternate with checkered patterns and festoons of roses. Under the molded neckline runs a frieze of volutes and festoons of roses, chiseled on a matte background. Paris 1763 The hallmarks are perfectly legible: Large load hallmark, letter date 1763, discharge hallmark, a special hallmark for chance objects put back on the market around 1798 Master Goldsmith hallmark: Henri Nicolas de Brie, Paris, master receipt in 1758 Height: 11.5 cm Neck diameter:

Dealer

Lucas L&E

Argenterie ancienne, Arts liturgiques, Arts Russes, Arts de la tables

Mobile : 0615687757

Maisons-Laffitte 78600

9.2-9.5 cm Foot diameter: 5.5 cm Weight: 157 gr
Considering the age of this timpani, the condition of its structure, surface and ornamentation is considered to be very good.
A small crack to report on the lip
 Tardy dictionary, 16th edition Paris. pages: 129,134,130