Description

Beautiful and curious object, patinated antler, in shape of a classic 6-sided column, carved base and capital, presenting a tiny 15mm dog, majestically seated on this raised perch. By unscrewing the capital, we discover a long silver tip, 6cm, strong enough to unclog pipe, for example.

The column base can also be useful for stop tobacco.

Other uses no doubt, sewing or embroidery, which I didn't think of.

beautiful tiny object from the 19th century.

Good condition, the dog has lost an ear and perhaps a sticking on muzzle, very little visible, 9cm x 1cm, Take a good look at our photos.....
