Description

Greek painter born in Castellania Corfu in 1897 and died in 1969 in Corfu. At first he studied at the historic art school in his hometown, with teachers George Samartzi and Stefanos Trivoli. During the time of Constantine Parthenis he stayed in Corfu, Flora took lessons from him, like Aglaia Papa. From 1918 in Paris, such as, for example, the Salon des Indépendants of 1924 and the Salon d'Automne of 1929. In Paris, he established a relationship with Dimitris Galanis. in whose studio he met famous artists, Picasso, Henri Matisse... Oil on canvas mounted on another canvas. We are selling this painting as it is, it is quite yellow and seems difficult to clear up, it has a crack and a few small accidents to restore, see photos. Signed Tin Florias lower right.
