Description

Charm for this enamelled box with painted decorations, from the LOUIS XV period, with a particularity because the castle which is painted cassius purple color which is inside the lid, is the one from which the box comes. This allowed the nobles to visualize their castle each time they opened their box... what a luxury! . The exterior decor is made of gallant scenes in landscapes (on all sides, even the bottom) Traces of wear but we do not blame it, it is from the Louis XV period, small lack of enamel on the lid.
