Description

Our way of the cross is in polychrome terracotta with high relief decoration. it is spectacular by its beautiful dimensions.

Complete, its fourteen stations topped with a removable cross are indeed very large, with a remarkable height of 140 cm by 65 wide.

The iconography of these hand-painted 19th century pieces is neat and delicately colored.

Note that two stations are broken.

A patient and skilled person with these fingers - which I am unfortunately not - will be able to reconstruct them honorably because we have the essential elements.

For the rest, the characters are expressive and the polychromy is soft, despite some logical gaps.
