Description

Versace crystal bowl by Rosenthal. Gianni Versace was one of the first designers in the world to understand the importance of creating a fashion house that represents a true lifestyle. Since then, Versace has become synonymous not only with fashion, but also with an art of living. The cooperation between Rosenthal and Versace began in 1992 under the direction of Gianni Versace, with the first collection, "Medusa", launched in 1993. This cut is not without evoking, by its neoclassicism and its decoration, the art 19th century French referring to Greece and ancient Rome.
