Description

Bronze proof with double patina signed Michel Noble (1952-) and bearing the stamp of the Blanchet-Landowski foundry. The dreamlike power of this sculpture by Michel Noble takes us into an imaginary world arousing emotion, questioning and fascination. The artist presents here a surprising and astonishing character, depicting a woman and her shoe. Entitled "the Mannequin", this work fashioned in this raw and heavy material that is bronze, takes shape under the hands of the artist and is transformed into a creature with an unusual attitude. Caricature or appeal to the imagination, Michel Noble has an acerbic humor that shines through here. Calling upon limitless creativity, this sculpture is a striking and unforgettable work.  Period: 1986 Excellent condition. Additional photos
