Description

Giuseppe-Maria CRESPI (1665, Bologna - 1747),

Seamstresses surprised at work
Oil on canvas
H. 35 cm; L. 23 cm

This charming little painting of very good quality is representative of Italian genre painting at the beginning of the 18th century. If the author could not be identified to date, he is probably in the entourage of Crespi, who, on many occasions, represented scenes from the life of humble people (housewives, cooks, washerwomen, etc.) , in dark atmospheres where the figures are highlighted by accented lighting. Our artist manages to restore the dignity, the eagerness to work and the correctness of the attitudes of these seamstresses,
