Description

Oil on canvas painting from the early 19th century, first empire restoration, representing the portrait of the muse Erato. Muse of lyrical and exotic poetry, she is represented with a lyre in her hand or a small cythera. Very nice sensual painting presenting the model in an unusual position and evoking a lyrical and evocative flight. Note the excellent state of conservation of the whole, with its original gilded wooden frame, and the quality of the colors which have remained very vivid. Rare painting on the market, surprising and charming for a classic or trendy interior. Possibility of sending in France and all over the world.
