Description

Large and beautiful proof in bronze with bronze patina signed Thomas François Cartier (1879 - 1943), French animal sculptor known for his passion for dogs, which he represented on numerous occasions. This work depicts a German shepherd standing still, climbing on a rock. Pricked up ears, the agile and elegant dog wears a wide collar that one imagines in studded leather. His posture is slender and his fur shiny. The signature is affixed on the terrace. The artist sends us his love for man's best friend through this touching and singular work.  Period: Early 20th Century Excellent condition. Shipping with suitable protection.
