Description

Bronze proof with two-tone patina inspired by the work of Dimitri Chiparus (1886-1947) whose real name is Dumitru Haralamb Chiparus, who practiced in Paris at the beginning of the 20th century. This bronze signed on the terrace is placed on a circular base in sea green marble. The work represents a very slender woman in a hat, dressed in the style of the Belle Epoque and holding her dog seated on a leash. She smiles and exchanges a look with her greyhound. A sculpture with raw features that symbolizes the reciprocal affection of the animal towards its mistress.
