in shades of pink ocher, orange, almond green and many blues placed on a field covered with native shades with a very dark background The color treatment has been made from plants and minerals.

The ornamentation of this piece of great finesse is composed of a rich and skilful decoration of harmonious stylized flowers, surrounded by a border representing stylized flowers, all bordered by a braid of very fine execution. .

The carpet is in very good condition considering its age and has no restoration, its carpet life was probably on the wall or on a table, which allows such a beautiful condition.

The colors are bright and give it a magnificent cachet. ## The Kadjar or Kadjar dynasty: (Qajar, Qadjar, Qajar, Persian: ?????) is a Turkmen dynasty which reigned over Iran from 1786 to 1925.

A very fine example in its own juice which will please the connoisseur with its very slight normal wear, the ends are short fringed as on almost all old carpets.

In the southeast of Iran, around the city of Kerman, live the semi-nomads of the Afshar tribe, but also in the region of Shiraz.

Pierre Loti, passionate about orientalism, speaks of it in his writings in 1900 (Vers Ispahan) as marvels of motley wool.

For a long time, these nomads lived in the north-west of Iran, but part of the population moved to the south-east where the manufacture of carpets represented an important economic sector and this since the middle of the 19th century.

These carpets have shades of pink, red, ocher, many blues, purple and the majority of them bear geometric patterns.

The most common design used is a large central field with one or more square medallions.

Some decorations represent the skin of an animal stretched before being tanned. What is typical of Afshar mats is that they are relatively wide compared to their length. Afshar rugs are also marketed under the name Sirdjan rugs.

A collector's item above all, this superb rug is a work of art close to modern or even contemporary art that can be put on the wall.

This rug has been professionally and environmentally cleaned.

Traces of light wear, which gives this type of ethnic rug its authentic character.

A beautiful piece due to its construction and the quality of the wools and the design.
