Description

Discover our superb mid-century teak sideboard with spindle legs, dating from the 60s. This piece of furniture with retro charm was found in Denmark, more precisely in the town of Esbjerg. It features two sliding doors that open to a removable shelf, providing practical and functional storage space. We have taken care to sand and varnish the top, thus giving it back all its original shine. The era of this sideboard dates back to the 1960s, an iconic period in interior design. It comes from Denmark, a country renowned for its Scandinavian aesthetics and its use of quality teak. The natural color of the wood gives this piece of furniture a warm and authentic look. Its vintage and Scandinavian style gives it great elegance and fits perfectly into different types of decor. The two sliding doors,
