Description

Quick description

Interesting vestige of sculpture, face of Christ.

Made of sandstone, some remains of paint suggest that it must have been entirely polychrome.

Difficult to date precisely, a few centuries but possible from the Romanesque period.

Old restoration of part of the face, giving it a very special cachet.

Professionally mounted and presented on a weathered solid wood frame, red velvet background.

1/1 scale sculpture.

Frame dimensions

42cm high, 34cm wide and 14cm deep.
