Beautiful Inkwell In Marble From The Louis XIV Period

1 250 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Marble

Length : 24,5 cm

Width : 16 cm

Height : 6,5 cm

Description

Very beautiful Louis XIV inkwell in marble from the beginning of the 18th century.
a very beautiful model of inkwell in heavily molded marble breccia.
this breach is gray and very colored by the presence of large black and white elements, indeed the whole is agglomerated by a natural cement of gray color.
the effect rendered on the object is magnificent.
it is rectangular with the angles cut and very heavily molded around the perimeter with very deep moldings.
it is double-sided and can be presented on both sides:
one side has a large rectangular cavity rounded at the ends that can form an empty pocket and the other side a set of four cavities forming an

Dealer

Antoine Claeys - Maison du XVème
antiquaire généraliste
Mobile : 06 85 53 27 42

24 grande Rue
Nogent l'Artaud 02 310

inkwell.
we can see the trace of four old small holes plugged on the side with a single cavity where there must have been at one time small feet probably in bronze which were removed and plugged later.
beautiful old waxed patina.
a very beautiful inkwell from the end of the 17th century beginning of the 18th century.

size:
24.5 cm long by 16 cm wide and 6.5 cm high.

we deliver and ship anywhere in the world, please contact us for a precise quote.