

Interesting Doll Of The Ligue Du Jouet Wearing A Traditional Costume From Béarn

675 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Other

Height : 38 cm

Description

The Baroness of Laumont had dolls made wearing traditional or historical costumes during the First World War. Models with unbreakable heads and limbs are quite rare. This one is complete, in good condition and still bears its two original wrist labels, the first indicating its origin from the Ligue du Jouet and the region "Pyrénées Béarnaises" represented by its costume and the second its country of origin, France.

Dimensions: 15" tall
