Description

I offer you this edition of the sixties by the Royat house of one of the famous tapestries representing "the lady with the unicorn" and illustrating "the view". It is a work done by hand in gros point. It's still better than the plethora of pseudo-modern tapestries executed by dark followers in the post-war years... Here you have the representation, full of symbols and also of charm, even if it seems of a hyper representation of this work.
