Description

In the Safavid spirit, gouache painting on silk fabric, probably representing King Khosrow on his throne. Around him many dignitaries and servants offer him gifts for his coronation.

Musicians play for the occasion. The painting is surrounded by large arabesques and floral foliage. Micro-mosaic frame in "Khatemkari". Very fine painting, with many details on the costumes. This work is probably a late copy, painted by Aga Mirak Mirza Ghas, which dates from the 16th century. Slight stains in the foliage.
