Description

Large sideboard in Louis XVI style, from the 19th century. Stamped by E. Kahn.

Opening with three doors and three drawers on the front. The central door inlaid with a flowery basin. Superb ornamentation of gilded and finely chiseled bronzes. Several bronzes bear the stamp of: E. Kahn on the back. Fleur de Pêcher marble top.

E. Kahn & Cie were late 19th century furniture makers and had showrooms in Paris and London. They were one of the best cabinet makers of the time, equivalent to other more famous French furniture makers such as Francois Linke, Paul Sormani and other renowned French cabinet makers. François Linke had even made it possible to illustrate Le Grand Bureau in the catalog of E.
