Description

Important pair of large candelabras in gilded bronze from the end of the 19th century, beginning of the 20th century. Bronze with brown and golden patina. These candlesticks consist of an amphora-shaped vase decorated with a frieze of branches and adorned with 2 gilt bronze handles. The vase supports 5 branches of lights, fluted, decorated with scrolls and rosettes, and a central stem supporting a 6th candle. The base is composed of a small fluted column placed on a square base resting on 4 legs in the shape of ram's pasta. Very slight signs of wear. Very well preserved original gilding. Complete with its binets and bobèches. Very good state.
