Description

First third of the 20th century Central Asia
Beautiful square shawl in purple transparent silk gauze, originating from one of the Republics of Central Asia. Stiff silk decorated with undulating golden yellow floral chains, staggered. On the edges, four parallel bands of golden yellow taffeta with oblique grooves. Tied fringes in matching colors on all four sides. Very rare small abrasions of the stretched silk according to its extreme transparency which do not call into question the solidity of this shawl with a very beautiful outfit. Laptop today. Very good general condition of color and conservation. Dimensions: 166cm x 156cm.
