Description

Pair of earrings in yellow gold 375/°° (9 KT, clover hallmark), in the form of pendant pendants, formed by a series of two patterns of coral buttons arranged in flowers. These buckles thus offer beautiful volumes of coral, and an assembly that mainly highlights this material, without showing any metal. Gold, in its 9 KT version, gives these earrings great resistance to pendulum effects, which make the charm and interest of these long pendants. These earrings are of Italian origin, and fall into the category of regional jewelry. These come from the Naples area. As buckles probably from the beginning of the century, the old coral buttons have characteristics such as small lacks of material or areas, completely natural characteristics that we had to choose to keep in favor of a large size of
