Description

8 day movement with rope pendulum. Whole and half-hour striking mechanism on a small silver bell During the ringing of the bells for both the full and half-hours, the blades of the mill turn as long as the bell rings. This mechanism is very special and completely original, something you rarely come across. The pendulum is in perfect condition and has a very high quality bronze. The gilding is perfect. The representation of this mantel clock can be found in Elke Niehuser's book page 226 under number 580
