Description

Sumptuous Ghous carpet in so-called kork wool (of excellent quality) and silk, on a silk foundation (which makes it extremely fine). Dating from the Shah Period around 1950. Signed by master weaver "Bahrami" in its cartouche.

Qom rugs are among the most impressive and prized examples of Persian craftsmanship around the world. In Qom, all carpets are made using the finest raw materials. Qom silk is one of the most qualitative in the world. The wool, known as kork wool, is of excellent quality and very shiny.

On its navy blue field, an idyllic floral landscape animated by the delicate central medallion in an ivory background. The arabesques, the floral motifs, as a reminder in the main border give this
