The contrasts of light and colors of the seascapes of southern Italy for this work by the Italian painter Enrico Bianchini. The work in good condition is made in oil on canvas, it is offered in a gilded carved wooden frame which measures 58 cm by 73 cm and 49.5 cm by 69.5 cm for the canvas alone. The frame being too small for this canvas, it encroaches on the painting, but can be changed without problem. The work represents boats and fishermen in front of a stone construction, certainly the dwellings of the fishermen, it is located in the back surroundings of Capri. Painter, engineer and architect, Enrico Bianchini is known and appreciated for his paintings depicting seascapes, life scenes and historical Italian monuments.
