Description

Gouache painting from the early 19th century representing an animated scene of a mountain landscape, perhaps the Italian Southern Alps. Note the very good quality and the very fine workmanship of the work, announcing romanticism by its rendering. The majesty of the decor is surprisingly well done, especially for a work of this size, 14 by 11 cm, and the presence of real humans in the middle of nature. Great freshness of the colors which have kept all their contrasts and vivacities. Possibility of sending in France and all over the world.
