Description

Very elegant sideboard with slippers in the Louis XV style, Provençal work from the mid-19th century. Great finesse of execution of the decorations largely inspired by the vegetation of the Region, decorated with foliage, musical instruments, soup tureen. Everything is pegged in the old way, the door is mounted on a hinge and an ornate lock. The top of the sideboard is made up of a rack (Gradin) with two sliders for the dishes and a tabernacle (small niche) in its central part. The bottom of the sideboard is composed of a large drawer with two pull rods and two doors mounted on hinges and largely decorated.
