Description

A prestigious provenance for this gouache with a blue pitcher in the purest Art Deco style. Indeed it comes from the famous Parisian art gallery Galerie Charpentier - today the headquarters of Sotheby's France - located opposite the Elysé Palace which has worked so hard over the years to develop art through multiple exhibitions. An infinite and exceptional palette of pure colors with powerful, very contrasting tones (blues, mauve, gray and beige... skilfully intertwined), the very pronounced influence of cubism characterize our work. Signed lower right in black gouache "Tony Agostini". It bears on the back the period label of the Galerie Charpentier which mentions in ink slightly tarnished by time, the name of the artist, the title of the work "Pichet bleu" as well as its dimensions.
