Description

A CRAZY GARDEN !

Why not consider a place apart as a patio at the bottom of your garden.

A cabin, a haven of peace in the shelter of a hundred-year-old tree!

A place that belongs only to you behind a hornbeam hedge, hidden by a clump of rhododendrons.

A place to come to rest, read or dream away from the noise of the world.

All you need is a judiciously chosen wood, some stone worn by time, patinated terracotta, all this skilfully staged by the inventive spirit of a dreamer and the expert hands of some masons, accustomed to handling these elements steeped in history to make your dream come true.

All of these, Renaissance Concepts has it all!

From the simplest to the most extravagant, the limits being only those that the degree of madness and the budget impose!

Burgundy paving, terracotta tiles, limestone rubble, oak beams, etc.

Here is one of the many examples of what we can imagine.

In order to set a minimum financial base, we can consider EUR5,000 to EUR8,000 of supplies seems to be a reasonable cost to design a place which, when finished, will delight all lovers of decorations where the authentic will clearly mark a place composed of any one.

The cost of implementation will depend on the complexity of your need.
