Description

Tyrolean painted chest mid XVIII

H. 81 - W. 147 - P. 69

Ancient Tyrolean chest, entirely built in fir wood.
The surface has been decorated with a dark brown background color, semi-covering, which creates various geometric effects on the surface.
Furthermore, on the front and on the top there are teal blue backgrounds containing floral decorations and red ramages.

Shaped lowering, and original wrought iron handles characterize this chest making it an ideal object to be inserted in equal measure in mountain or city environments, an object capable of giving color and warmth to the environment in which it is located.
