Important rectangular desk table, finely inlaid in various woods.

The table top is composed of several vases with flowers alternating with floral elements, animals, butterflies and birds. The different floral and geometric shapes are then repeated throughout the desk, all embellished with various elements in gilded bronze.

The refinement of the inlays make the table/desk very elegant.

The furniture can be used both as a table and as a desk. Suitable both in a modern contemporary home and in classical furnishings, the dual function allows it to be placed either in a study or in the centre of a room such as a living room, or for example in a hotel lobby.
