

Porcelain Punch-ladle With Famille Rose Enamels - China 18th Qianlong Period

850 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Porcelain

Length : 33cm

Description

Porcelain punch ladle in poly-lobed diamond shape with famille rose enamels, and its turned wooden handle. The porcelain is decorated with flowers and a red and gold border. The inside of the ladle is decorated with a flower. The handle is made of turned wood. The assembly is original.

China 18th century

Qianlong period (1735-1796)

Total length of the ladle: 33cm

Length of the porcelain body: 5cm

Width of the porcelain body: 6.5cm

Height of the porcelain body: 4cm

Length of the handle: 25.2cm

Condition: Perfect condition , two tiny chips on the edge of the porcelain body, a small trace in

Dealer

Galerie Drake

Chinese Porcelain & Chinese Works of Art

Mobile : 0689483023

Paris 75011

the glaze inside the body.

For an identical model, see *Collecting Chinese
Export Porcelain*, Elinor Gordon, 1977, p.114

For an identical model, see Sotheby's sale January
23, 2010, Lot 28

More information and photos on request